This is the act of making love or be attracted by opposite sexe.

ORIGINE

We cannot really state with exactitude the origine of homosexuality.may be it started with our generation or it existed in the past but people were just afraid to show their sexual orientation.also from bible studies we discover that homosexuality existed before CHRIST since it is written that the bible condemned those who practiced "fornication".here;fornication is refered to as homosexuality and other heterosexual practices such as anal sex masturbation etc.we could thus say that it existed long ago but its nowadays that most of them show up and are even proud of their desire for the same sex.

SOME EXAMPLES

In the MTV award ceremony,the award ceremony crupts into a frenzy when two popular addresses greeted each other with a passionate kiss!onlookers gasp into shock and then cheered into support.guys called it a triumph,skeptics called it a publicity stunt.which ever it is!

The same thing repeated itself in the French football league.a team''st etienne'' cheered up the crowd after scoring a goal the coach came and kissed his assistant.this very image was passed over the tv various times perhaps for publicity?the funniest is that while others praise thel for their courage, others condem them for their debucherie.these examples as many others are ther just to show that homosexuality exists and its nowadays that they are really proud of themselves.In Cameroon homosexuality became popular in 2006 when a famous newspaper published a list of 50 state men declaired homosexual:this list was called "top cinquante"this list greatly created panic all over the territory and some people even considere it as a sect''civil society''since it was their means of obtaining power.from this period onwards till these days,it became very popular to hear that a youg boy was being raped by a man or that a boy was proposed a huge amount of money if he had sex with the man proposing it.to generalize we can say that most Cameroonian see homosexuality as an evil practice done by some peole in a given secret society such that they acquire more and more wealth when ever they practice this act.

Hence homosexuality cannot clearly be inderstood since it is somehow based on human characters and behaviors which are constantly changing depending on various individuals.

We should not judge or prejudice those who are homosexual because it is thier way of being but we should condemm those who practice it for evil and financial purposes.

SCIENTIFIC APPROACH OF HOMOSEXUALITY

Looking at the question biologically we see that the aim of making love is to produce offsprings despite the fact that we can still make offsprings artificially using eggs and sperms confined in designed apparatus.

Scientifically we can really define the behavior because all is happening in the thalamus of the brain and each person has a different brain. Those who like to play with statistics can tell you that the world's population is rapidly increasing i.e. from world's statistical results we learned that nine babies are born each second in the world and at this rate all the human resources will be finished in some few years to come. Thus some scientists after long periods of researches came out with the idea that homosexuals may be an evolutionary species devoted to solve this problem of exponential population growth. These ideas take their origin from the theory of DARWIN who stands for the fact that species evolve in order to best suit to their environment.

TESTIMONY IN BUEA

This is a testimony from two girls 'X and Y' here in Buea. I can't say that they are making it for money because both are students. But one can't tell if they are in a sect or not.

X: It started when I came to visit Y. She was making love with her boyfriend. They both saw me and I was really embarrassed. I waited for her outdoors because we planned to go to the hair dresser. Fortunately for me it started raining and I was forced to move into the room. I thus stood in refusing but their various actions 'sexy ones' excited me and thus I ceded.

We made it the three of us and it was very nice so the following days we were doing it this new way. One day we saw a romantic film and the boy was absent so we did it the two of us. It was quite exciting.

So we were now doing it like that the feeling grew stronger and stronger and we thought in the beginning that it was just friendship but later realised it was love.

and since then we are very happy of our situation end of testimony.

CONCLUSION

From here we can see that homosexuality is a real fact in our society and it left to each and everyone to decide if it's good or bad for him.

homosexuality love or money? feeling or evil?
